

The PARKING INSIDER

Message from the CEO - Stuart Norman

On 2 April the Federal Treasurer Josh Frydenberg handed down the budget which included significant funding for roads, rail and commuter car parking. In total the government has committed $500m to create or improve commuter car parking at 12 public transport hubs in New South Wales, Victoria and Queensland. Six of the commuter parks are in Melbourne's east and south eastern suburbs with four pledged for New South Wales and two in Brisbane. Read more....

$500m for station car parks?

Half a billion dollars sounds like a lot of money, but that really depends on what you're spending it on. In Tuesday's federal budget, the Coalition government announced its Commuter Car Park Fund, a A$500 million, ten-year package intended to...
