PARKING INSIDER

Chief Executive's Message

At the recent insight forum in Brisbane we were fortunate to have leaders from retail, airport, taxi council and a consultant from local government, to discuss and debate what is on the horizon for the next 5-10 years in their industry. We all agreed that technology and disruption was going to be a major influencer, as well as driverless cars. With the round of state budgets announcements happening, Parking Australia has been actively meeting with both sides of government to position our policies on hospital parking, parking levies (particularly in NSW where the parking space levy is currently under review), and presenting on the Accredited Operator Scheme.

With OUTLOOK 17 only a few months away I encourage you to book your close. This is our second OUTLOOK conference and with three keynote speakers and a raft of industry specialists. There is something for every sector to take away, however on the second day of OUTLOOK we decided to move away from the tradition of speakers talking to delegates and will be having a DELEGATE LED day. Trending topics that you will be voting for will form either a workshop, roundtable or facilitated discussion. Sounds unconferency? Well it certainly is, and every sector of parking will be covered in up to 15 sessions.

Finally, I would like to acknowledge Director Joy Addison, who after nearly 10 years with PA has decided to step down from the Board. Thank you Joy for your commitment and leadership.

Transport infrastructure investments must consider an automate future

In response to the Federal Budget, Parking Australia is urging Government to factor in future technology innovations and parking requirements before rolling out its $70bn plans. Chief Executive, Lorraine Duffy, believes that while the $70 billion investment in infrastructure commitments and transport upgrades is welcomed, Government must ensure longevity in a rapidly changing technology environment. Joy Addison steps down from Parking Australia

Parking Australia Director, Joy Addison, is stepping down after 10 years with the association, 9 years of which Joy served as a committee and board member. Joy was Chair of the PACE Committee, and also contributed to PA's decision to transition from an incorporated association to a company limited by guarantee. We thank Joy for her substantial contribution to the association's success and her dedicated approach to her role as director. Click to play.
